Introducing CCSA’s Issues of Substance 2019 Conference

The Canadian Centre on Substance Use and Addiction’s (CCSA) Issues of Substance conference is Canada’s premier learning event for the substance use and addiction field. Organized by CCSA, Issues of Substance is the only national conference to bring together addiction workers, healthcare professionals, researchers, policy makers, knowledge brokers, and people with lived or living experience and their families.

This three-day event provides an unparalleled opportunity to share new research and best practices, network with your peers and receive practical training related to substance use and addiction, prevention, treatment and recovery. First introduced in 2005, the conference has been held every two years in November to support National Addictions Awareness Week.

The theme for this year’s conference is Evidence and Perspectives, Compassion and Action. This theme reflects the importance of relying on research and real-world experience as we identify sustainable solutions that meet the needs of Canadians suffering from substance use disorder. Substance use is a growing health concern in Canada. In 2018, CCSA released Canadian Substance Use Cost and Harms (2007–2014), which calculated that substance use cost $38.4 billion a year (in 2014 dollars).

Substance use is a significant contributor to chronic diseases. It can negatively impact lives and remove from our communities those who would otherwise be capable of caring for their children, working, volunteering and studying. The good news is that addiction is preventable and treatable. Recovery is an attainable reality for many.

As you review the Guide, you will see there are a number of ways you can partner with CCSA that will increase your visibility and opportunities for partnership and collaboration with a wide range of communities. At the same time, your support underscores the strategic value you place on the need for a national meeting place to listen, reflect, be inspired and act.

We look forward to seeing you in Ottawa in 2019!

Sincerely,
Rita Notarandrea, M.H.Sc., C.H.E.
Chief Executive Officer, CCSA

The Canadian Centre on Substance Use and Addiction

CCSA was created by an Act of Parliament in 1988 to provide national leadership to address substance use in Canada. The Centre changes lives by bringing people and knowledge together to reduce the harms of substance use (including, alcohol, cannabis and opioids) on society. We partner with public, private and non-governmental organizations to improve the health and safety of Canadians. Through collaboration, we commit to making a difference together. CCSA has four strategic core functions:

Providing National Leadership by creating a common focus and purpose to achieve collective impact.

Building Strategic Partnerships by bringing people and knowledge together to develop collective responses and coordinated action.

Advancing Research by synthesizing and generating timely evidence to inform practice and policies.

Mobilizing Knowledge by expanding the reach and adoption of new and emerging practices.

CCSA activities and products are made possible through a financial contribution from Health Canada. The views of CCSA do not necessarily represent the views of the Government of Canada.
